The attorney must also have advised clients concerning their rights and responsibilities regarding taxes, the proper taxation transactions, and the procedure for contesting proposed and assessed taxes.

To become Board Certified in Tax Law, an attorney must have:

- Been licensed to practice law for at least five years;
- Devoted a required percentage of practice to tax law for at least five years;
- Handled a wide variety of tax law matters to demonstrate experience and involvement;
- Attended tax law continuing education seminars regularly to keep legal training up to date;
- Been evaluated by fellow lawyers and judges;
- Passed a day-long written examination.

The consumer can identify a Tax Law Board Certified attorney in one of many ways.
